Verzasca

Valle Verzasca

It is a valley in the Locarno district of the Canton of Ticino, Switzerland and extends over a length of 25 kilometres in north-south direction..
Due to its isolated location, the Verzasca valley is claimed as one of the valleys that could best keep its originality.
The so-called Rustici in grey stone, with white borders on the windows and heavy stone roofs, are typical houses in the valley.

The valley is formed by the Verzasca River.
The river is known for its clear turquoise water and vibrant colored rocks.
